

St Helen's Bible Study Resources

Originally produced as notes for small group leaders, these comprehensive documents are like mini-commentaries, breaking down books of the Bible into natural divisions, carefully explaining the meaning of each passage and its application to us today in line with the context of the book. An outstanding resource for deeper study of a particular book.

Prayer Resources

PrayerMate

PrayerMate is an excellent app which helps you to organise your prayer life. Create lists of prayer points and/or subscribe to feeds from organisations, and PrayerMate will generate a set of subjects for you each day.

Available from the App store or Google Play.

Valley of Vision

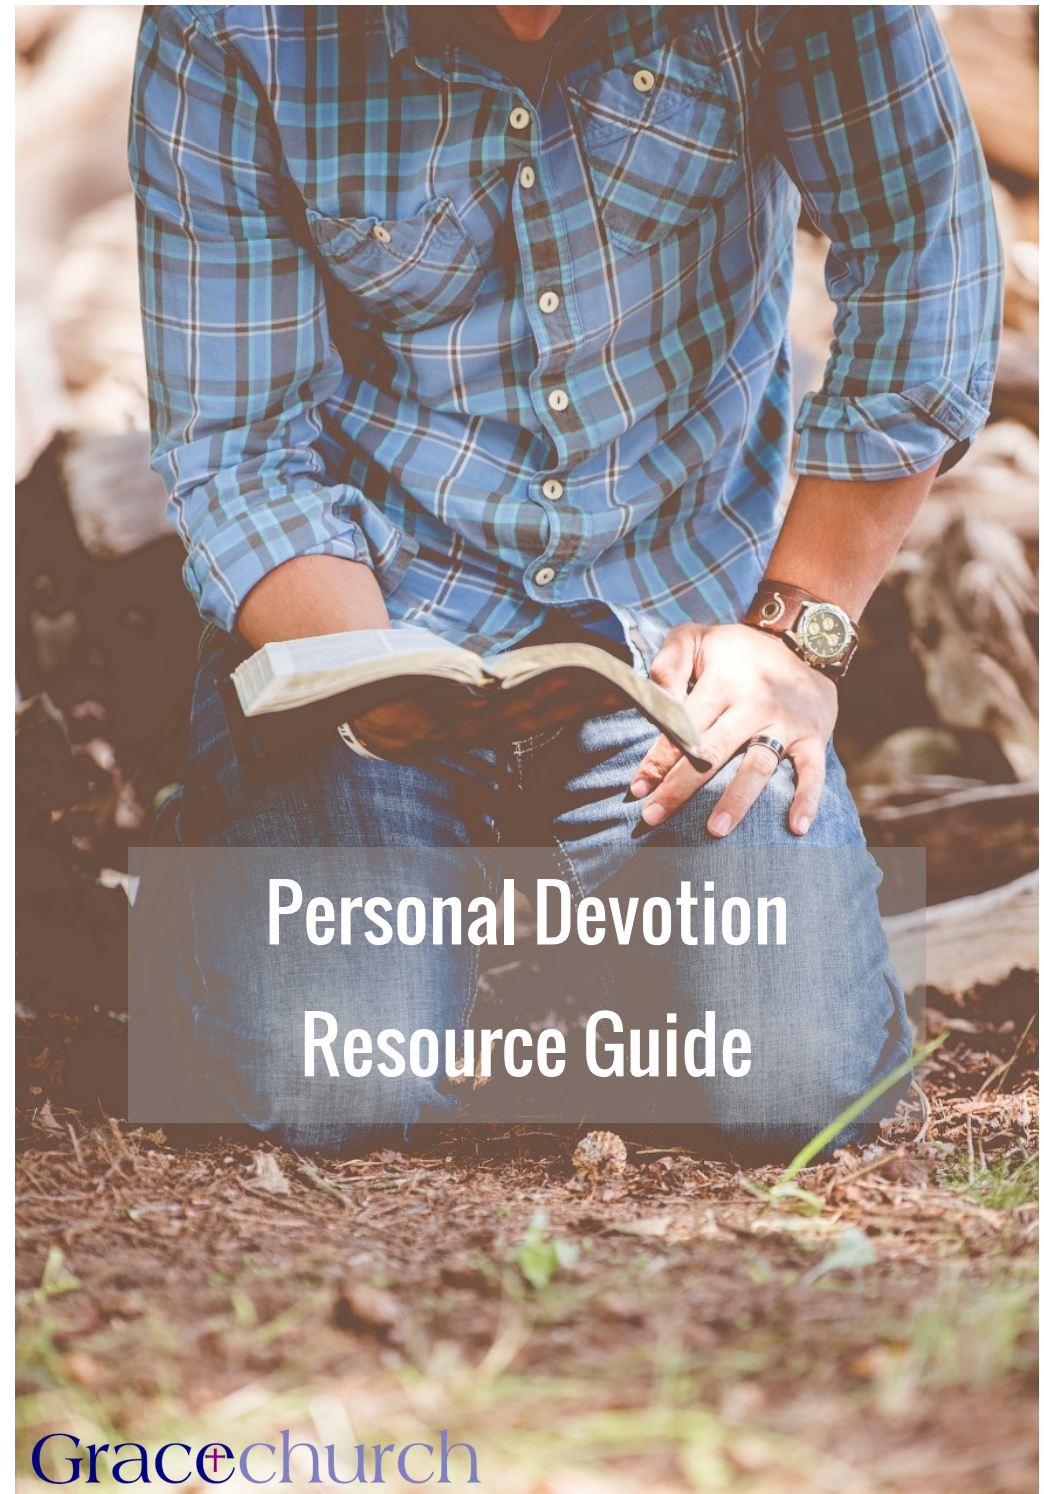

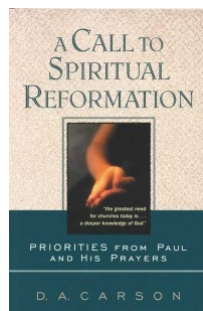

A collection of Puritan prayers, beautifully written and full of deep Biblical reflection. Use them as fuel for your own prayer life.

£6.49 or £14.99 (leather edition) & free delivery from: www.icmbooksdirect.co.uk

A Call to Spiritual Reformation

There are lots of great books on prayer; this is one of the best. Carson examines a selection of Paul's prayers and identifies what we can learn from his priorities to help us in our own prayer lives. Pure gold—don't let the intimidating title put you off!

Bible Study Resources

The resources below are listed in order of how demanding they are in terms of time and ability, beginning with the easiest and ending with the most stretching.

Solid Joys

Solid Joys is a devotional app from desiringgod.org, with short daily reflections written by John Piper sent straight to your phone or tablet.

Available from the App store or Google Play.

“Your testimonies are wonderful; therefore my soul keeps them.

The unfolding of your word gives light; it imparts understanding to the simple.”

Psalms 119:129-130

The Psalms

The Psalms are brilliant for learning what a relationship with God looks like in practice. If you're feeling a bit spiritually dry, it can help to read a Psalm each day for a little while.

10ofthose Undated Devotions

Undated devotions on short passages taking you through books of the Bible, each ending with a couple of questions to stimulate private reflection.

We particularly recommend the following booklets:

- Exodus: The Lord and His Pilgrims
- Deuteronomy: At Journey's End
- Daniel: Far from Home
- Colossians: Alive in Christ

£3.99 from www.10ofthose.com with free e-book.

Or just 99p as an e-book.

Time with God & Explore

If studying the Bible on your own is new to you, then The Good Book Company's 'Time with God', an introduction to a regular quiet time, is an excellent place to start. 'Explore' is produced regularly in the same format, with 3 months of daily readings in each copy.

Time with God: just £1.00 from www.thegoodbook.co.uk.

Explore: £4.49 per copy, or £16.99 annual subscription.

(An Explore app is also available from the App store or Google Play)

Interactive Bible Studies

As The Good Book Company website says: 'This series is ideal for those who want to grapple more deeply with the meaning and significance of the text.'

Any of the ones written by Phillip Jensen or Tony Payne are likely to be very good. We particularly recommend the following:

- Revelation: The Vision Statement
- James: The Implanted Word
- Genesis: Beyond Eden
- Titus: The Path to Godliness
- Matthew: The Good Living Guide

£2.80 from www.thegoodbook.co.uk.

Mining the Bible

Learn to study different Bible genres for yourself with these downloadable booklets, which introduce you to principles and methods of Bible study for each genre as you go along. Each study has a stretching set of questions, and ends with a short summary of the passage. Try the first guide on Colossians for free.
